DECLARATION OF ROGER JELICOE UNDER 37 C.F.R. 1.131

1. My name is Roger J. Jellicoe. I am a citizen of the United Kingdom and reside in Woodstock, Illinois USA.
2. I conceived the invention disclosed and claimed U.S. Patent Application No. 10/661,760 during the week of November 24, 2002.
3. The invention was reduced to practice no later than December 3, 2002, by which time I constructed a mechanical model of the embodiment of the invention shown in Figs. 1-3 of the above-referenced patent application. Digital images of the mechanical model are attached as Exhibit A to this declaration.
4. The electrical components necessary to construct a fully functional prototype of the invention, including flex circuits or optical connections necessary to produce a communication device including sliding keypads, were well-known in the art at the time I reduced the invention to practice.
5. On December 3, 2002, I submitted a disclosure of the invention to Motorola Inc.'s patent review committee to be considered for filing as U.S. utility patent application.

I hereby declare that all statements made herein of my own knowledge are true and that all statements made on information and belief are believed to be true; and further that these statements were made with the knowledge that willful false statements and the like so made are punishable by fine or imprisonment, or both, under Section 1001 of Title 18 of the United States Code.
